

Karen's Lettings equality policy

Karen's Lettings equal opportunities statement

The purpose of this policy is to confirm our organizations values on equality and diversity to both staff and clients. We aim to put these into practice to show potential staff and clients that Karen's Lettings is serious about fairness. Karen's Lettings recognizes and accepts its responsibility to ensure equality and diversity in all areas of operation.

Karen's Lettings Limited is committed to encouraging equality and diversity among our workforce, potential workforce and clients/customers, and eliminating unlawful discrimination.

The aim is for our workforce, potential workforce to be truly representative of all sections of society and our customers/clients, and for each employee to feel respected and able to give their best.

The organisation - in providing our services is also committed against unlawful discrimination of customers/clients or the public

The policy's purpose is to:

- provide equality, fairness and respect for all in our employment, whether temporary, part-time or full-time or customer/client.
- not unlawfully discriminate because of the Equality Act 2010 protected characteristics of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race (including colour, nationality, and ethnic or national origin), religion or belief, sex (gender) and sexual orientation

- oppose and avoid all forms of unlawful discrimination. This includes in pay and benefits, terms and conditions of employment, dealing with grievances and discipline, dismissal, redundancy, leave for parents, requests for flexible working, and selection for employment, promotion, training or other developmental opportunities

The organisation commits to:

- encourage equality and diversity in the workplace and business service to customers/clients as they are good practice and make business sense
- create a working and business environment free of bullying, harassment, victimisation and unlawful discrimination, promoting dignity and respect for all, and where individual differences and the contributions of all staff and customers/clients are recognised and valued

This commitment includes training managers and all other employees about their rights and responsibilities under the equality policy. Responsibilities include staff conducting themselves to help the organisation provide equal opportunities in employment, and prevent bullying, harassment, victimisation and unlawful discrimination

All staff should understand they, as well as their employer, can be held liable for acts of bullying, harassment, victimisation and unlawful discrimination, in the course of their employment, against fellow employees, customers, suppliers and the public

- take seriously complaints of bullying, harassment, victimisation and unlawful discrimination by fellow employees, customers, suppliers, visitors, the public and any others in the course of the organisation's work activities

Such acts will be dealt with as misconduct under the organisation's grievance and/or disciplinary procedures, and any appropriate action will be taken. Particularly serious complaints could amount to gross misconduct and lead to dismissal without notice

Further, sexual harassment may amount to both an employment rights matter and a criminal matter, such as in sexual assault allegations. In addition, harassment under the Protection from Harassment Act 1997 – which is not limited to circumstances where harassment relates to a protected characteristic – is a criminal offence

- make opportunities for training, development and progress available to all staff, who will be helped and encouraged to develop their full potential, so their talents and resources can be fully utilised to maximise the efficiency of the organisation
- decisions concerning staff being based on merit (apart from in any necessary and limited exemptions and exceptions allowed under the Equality Act)
- review employment practices and procedures when necessary to ensure fairness, and also update them and the policy to take account of changes in the law
- monitor the make-up of the workforce regarding information such as age, gender, ethnic background, sexual orientation, religion or belief, and disability in encouraging equality and diversity, and in meeting the aims and commitments set out in the equality policy

Monitoring will also include assessing how the equality policy, and any sporting action plan, are working in practice, reviewing them annually, and considering and taking action to address any issues

The equality policy is fully supported by senior management and has been agreed with trade unions and/or employee representatives.

Details of the organisation's grievance and disciplinary policies and procedures can be found at our head office, Karen's Lettings, 19 Chester Street, Wrexham, LL13 8BG or on our web site www.karenslettings.co.uk . This includes with whom an employee, customer/client should raise a grievance – usually their/the manager.

Use of the organisation's grievance and/or disciplinary procedures does not affect an employee's right to make a claim to an employment tribunal within three months of the alleged discrimination.